This weekend is all about SAINTS. Both great and small, remembered and forgotten, named and unnamed, the saints in our lives are very important for the growth and depth of our faith.

Many people will share the joy of saints in a backwards manner through the celebration of Halloween. We all understand the root of the word comes from the Solemnity of All Saints Day on November 1st as we celebrate the great communion of saints in heaven. On November 2nd we celebrate All Souls Day where we remember our beloved dead and all those who have died.

The Second Vatican Council reminds us the primary vocation of every Christian is to live a life of holiness. "The dignity of man rests above all on the fact that he (or she) is called to communion with God." (GS #19) If we are in communion with God then in truth we are living a holy life...or in other words a saintly life.

We are all called to be saints. Saints are not perfect but rather they desire a deep and abiding communion with God in their imperfection. We are all made for communion with God. The dignity of our Christian vocation invites us to share our lives with each other in mutual love and mercy as we seek to follow in the footsteps of our Lord Jesus.

Which brings me to the invitation. The Diocese of San Jose is hosting a family event Diamonds in the Rough: Raising Saints in a Secular Society at St. Martin Parish in Sunnyvale featuring Mark Hart. For more information please go to the Diocese website at www.dsj.org/beasaint. All are invited to be a saint.

God Bless, Fr. Mark

Notas del Párroco

© J. S. Paluch Co., Inc.

Este fin de semana es para los SANTOS. Tanto grandes o pequeños, en memoria u olvidado, con nombre o sin nombre, los santos en nuestra vida son muy importantes para ayudar con el crecimiento y la profundidad de nuestra fe.

Mucha gente va a compartir la alegría de los santos de una manera trasera a través de la celebración de Halloween. Todos conocemos que la raíz de la palabra viene de la Solemnidad de Todos los Santos que es el 1 de noviembre cuando celebramos la gran comunión de los santos en el cielo. El 2 de noviembre se celebra el Día de los Difuntos, donde recordamos nuestros queridos difuntos y todos los que han muerto.

El Concilio Vaticano II nos recuerda que la vocación fundamental de todo cristiano es vivir una vida de santidad. "La dignidad del hombre se basa sobre todo en el hecho de que él (o ella) se llama a la comunión con Dios." (GS # 19) Si estamos en comunión con Dios, entonces en verdad estamos viviendo una vida santa ... o en igual, como santo.

Todos estamos llamados a ser santos. Los santos no son perfectos, sino que desean una comunión profunda y constante con Dios en su imperfección. Todos estamos hechos para la comunión con Dios. La dignidad de nuestra vocación cristiana nos invita a compartir nuestra vida con los demás en el amor mutuo y la misericordia a medida que tratamos de seguir los pasos de nuestro Señor Jesús.

Esto me lleva a una invitación. La Diócesis de San José está organizando un evento familiar Diamonds in the Rough: Raising Saints in a Secular Society en St. Martin Parish en Sunnyvale con Mark Hart. Para obtener más información, visite el sitio web de la Diócesis en www.dsj.org/beasaint. Todos están invitados a ser santos.
