A
NOTE
FROM OUR PASTOR

The 3rd Sunday of Lent is here and we are now looking forward to Easter with more anticipation and greater spiritual clarity because of our Lenten practices...correct? Or are we muddling through, hoping and praying that we are at least pointed in the right direction...maybe? And in some cases we could be looking at ruin and disaster and utter failure...possibly?

All are acceptable answers and are experiences we share at one time or another during any journey, work or plan we have put together. It is the way of the life.

In our Lenten reflection book "Finding Hope When Life Hurts" the author reminds us this Sunday that it is okay to say, "no" to certain things in life as long as it leads us to the ultimate "yes" to God's will and love. Our "no's" should help us remove the distractions of life and help us see more clearly the blessings of God and how we are called to share of our time, talent, and treasure in being good stewards of God's gifts.

El tercer domingo de Cuaresma llego y ahora esperamos la Pascua con más anticipación y mayor claridad espiritual debido a nuestras prácticas Cuaresmales ... ¿correcto? ¿O estamos confundidos, esperando y rezando para que al menos estamos apuntados en la dirección correcta ... tal vez? Y en algunos casos estamos viendo la ruina y el desastre y el fracaso total ... ¿posiblemente?

Todas son respuestas aceptables y son experiencias que compartimos en un momento u otro durante cualquier jornada, trabajo o plan que hayamos tenido. Es el camino de la vida.

En nuestro libro de reflexión cuaresmal "Encontrando Esperanza Cuando la Vida Hiere", el autor nos recuerda este domingo que está bien decir "no" a ciertas cosas en la vida siempre y cuando esto nos lleva al "sí" final a la voluntad y el amor de Dios. Nuestro "no" debería ayudarnos a eliminar las distracciones de la vida y ayudarnos a ver más claramente las bendiciones de Dios y cómo estamos llamados a compartir nuestro tiempo, talento y tesoro al ser buenos administradores de los dones de Dios.

This can happen but more often we are muddling and hoping and praying we are doing the right thing. Saying, "no" to the doubts and fears are possible when we stand in communion with the Church and respond with the "yes" of faith to the harder decisions in life. Being surrounded by faith, hope and love will strengthen our resolve to do the right thing because of God's presence. And yes, we must learn to say "No" to the disasters of life, even when they are of our own making. Jesus in the Gospel today reminds us that we will often fail to understand but if we continue to search and trust in God's goodness we will discover the true path of life which leads to love.

Our Renewed in the Light Capital Campaign still needs your continued support and pledges. We are thankful to all who have already pledged and are in the process of fulfilling their pledge. But...we truly need all member of the parish to actively participate in this mission. Pledge cards are available and online donations are gladly accepted. If you have any questions please feel free to contact me or any member of the parish staff.

God bless, Fr. Mark

(Notas del Párroco, de la pagina 1)

Esto puede suceder, pero más a menudo estamos confundidos, rezando y esperando que estemos haciendo lo correcto. Diciendo que "no" a las dudas y miedos es posible cuando estamos en comunión con la Iglesia y respondemos con el "sí" a la fe en las decisiones más difíciles de la vida. Estar rodeado de fe, esperanza y amor fortalecerá nuestra determinación de hacer lo correcto debido a la presencia de Dios. Y sí, debemos aprender a decir "No" a los desastres de la vida, incluso cuando son de nuestra propia creación. Jesús en el Evangelio de hoy nos recuerda que a menudo fallaremos en comprender, pero si continuamos buscando y confiando en la bondad de Dios, descubriremos el verdadero camino de la vida que conduce al amor.

Nuestra campaña de capital Renovado en la Luz aún necesita su apoyo y su promesa continua. Estamos agradecidos a todos los que ya han prometido y están en proceso de cumplir su promesa. Pero ... realmente necesitamos que todos los miembros de la parroquia participen activamente en esta misión. Las tarjetas de compromiso están disponibles y aceptamos donaciones en línea con gusto. Si tiene alguna pregunta, no dude en ponerse en contacto conmigo o con cualquier miembro del personal de la parroquia.

Que Dios los bendiga, El Padre Mark

Teen Faith Formation - CONFESSIONS OF A YOUTH MINISTER & NEW MOM

TO THE CORE & STAFF: I want to publicly thank our youth ministry Core members who took over youth catechesis and on-going faith formation programs while I was gone. They did a wonderful job which allowed me to spend time with my 6.11lbs, 21 inches heaven-sent baby boy. We named him Hector after my father who went ahead of us to save our seats at the Lord's Table a year ago. Thank you all so much for the gifts, the advice, the words of encouragement and the prayers that my family and I have received. We are ever so thankful and blessed!

TO THE ADULTS: While I am still a youth minister, at home I went from being in the marriage ministry to a family ministry. My responsibilities have tripled. I am now responsible for making sure that not just my husband makes it to heaven, but that my son grows up to be a faithful follower of Jesus Christ. I know, easier said than done. Still, I am very much looking forward to his presentation. He will receive the Holy Spirit (Baptism) in April and I just can't wait to take him to First Communion and Confirmation classes when he gets older. I'm looking forward to going to all the parent meetings were I hope I get to volunteer and help in any way possible. Will he get married, become a priest? I won't worry about that just yet, let it be God's will.

One night after having fed Hector, burped him, changed his diaper, changed his clothes, sang and rocked him, played with his toys and done every other thing possible, I could not get him to stop crying. I said "God help me out here!" I know he's my responsibility but he was and is yours before ever having been mine so please help me take care of him. Then the weight of the responsibility really hit me. I am in charge of taking care of just one of God's many wonderful creations. Yikes! The pressure is on. God decided that I was worthy enough of watching over one of his beloved children. It's both the scariest and most humbling thought I've ever had.

As a youth minister I would usually side with the teens when they complained about their parents. "Parents can be wrong sometimes too," I would say. Well, no more! Now that I am mom I'm definitely Team Parents all the way! I have never been more appreciative of what my own parents did for me. From the physical to the emotional pains and more, the struggle is real. I am blessed to have a loving husband and my mother to help me raise our little angel, but even with all the help from friends and family it has been a difficult life change to get used to. To think my mother did it twice, and my mother-in-law eleven times, wow! I think each and every woman who has formed a family deserves a medal and praise for the wonder that is motherhood. To all the loving parents out there, I tip my hat to you! I know you'd probably rather hear it straight from your own kids, but in case they haven't gotten around to it lately please know that you are amazing and that we know you're doing your best.

TO THE TEENS: Believe it or not, it's true, every parent out there starts out wanting the very best for their child. Even before they are born you worry about them and try to take care of them as best you can. When I was younger I remember thinking "When I'm pregnant I'm going to eat nothing but salads and veggies so my child grows up healthy." I did try that and it worked... for like three days. While I did avoid junk food and changed my diet to a healthier one for most of my pregnancy I have to say I had a fallout on my last trimester. Talking with some friends they all mentioned that the cravings came in hard during the last month. So of course come November every fast food place that I passed by was a temptation. Where I would once turn my nose away because of the awful fried-oil smell, each drive-thru now smelled like a four-star gourmet meal I simply had to have. One Sunday I couldn't take it anymore, I went to a Five-Guys and order a cheeseburger, fries AND a shake. And you know what, it was good, no it was great. I was satisfied and had no regrets. Later that night as I prepared to go to Mass the guilt started to sink in. Hector wasn't even born yet and already I had let him down, already I was setting him up for failure. I had trouble focusing in Mass thinking about this, I was already the worst mom ever. I decided I would ask God to forgive me and ask for strength so that it wouldn't happen again. After receiving Communion as I prayed in the pew God comforted me. He said, "Child calm down, there's nothing wrong with a burger every once in a while. Besides, you want to give your child the best food ever? You just did, you gave him Me." My mind was absolutely blown. Talk about the best nourishment! My son had just received his first unofficial Communion. (I know, not really since he's not fully aware of Who he is receiving, but just go with me here). I had just given my son the best thing ever. The best WHO ever. I want what's best for him and Jesus is what's best for him. I did something right! Since being born in November my son has missed only one Sunday Mass, and that was because I was too afraid (and too pooped) to take him out his first week of life. I know that like all parents I'll probably mess up a few times but God who is our perfect Father will always be there to have our backs and make things better. He is present in the Eucharist and will always be the strength we need to get through it all. Teens, don't forget that no matter how many times you think you fail God, He will never fail you!

TO ALL: Our team of volunteers, the Core, and some of the youth will sometimes tease me about being the "mother hen." I have to be the disciplinarian but also the one who cares. Honestly, I love it! Before being a mother of one I was already a mother of 193 (more or less). I now understand that the title has to be earned. A mother is not just someone who has a child, a mother is caring and affectionate. A mother's love is freely given and unconditional. Nothing made that more clear to me than the words of Mama Mary: "Am I not here, I who am your mother." Our Lady of Guadalupe said those words to Saint Juan Diego and I found myself saying those words (more or less) to my now 3-month old as I tried to comfort him when I heard him crying coming home from work. "Don't cry, mommy is here." How lucky we are to have Mother Mary, she loves us unconditionally and is always waiting for us with arms wide open ready to comfort and watch over us. I want to thank the St. Lucy families for the opportunity of entering into a relationship with the teens and for letting me walk along with them in their faith journey as their "spiritual mom," it's truly an honor.

In Jesus' Peace, Patty Osorio, Coordinator of Youth and Evangelization AND Mother of 1 + 193

Encounter Safiata

The dry and dusty climate of Burkina Faso means farming can be difficult. It means water can be hard to come by. And it means Safiata and her family often face hunger. Even though she had two plots of land to farm, the many months each year without rain made feeding her 9 children and 16 grandchildren a real challenge.

That's why Catholic Relief Services is providing farmers like Safiata with more land to grow crops—like onions—that thrive in dry climates. And thanks to a CRS-sponsored irrigation system, she knows she'll have access to water year-round. That means her crops will grow, and she'll be able to sell some at the market. "I pay school fees thanks to selling the vegetables. The vegetables help solve the problems my family faces," Safiata says.

Moreover, she can prepare for the future. Together with others, Safiata is putting a little of the income she earns from selling her crops at the market into a community savings pool. "If you face difficulties, the community will help you," she says. Those who contribute can borrow money from the fund for emergencies, school fees for their children, or to build businesses.

Un encuentro con Safiata

El clima seco y polvoriento de Burkina Faso hace que la agricultura y la posibilidad de conseguir agua puedan ser difíciles. Y eso quiere decir que Safiata y su familia a menudo se enfrentan a la incertidumbre. A pesar de que tenía dos parcelas de tierra para cultivar, era un verdadero reto alimentar a sus 9 hijos y 16 nietos debido a los muchos meses sin lluvia cada año.

Catholic Relief Services está proporcionando a los agricultores como Safiata más tierras para cultivar productos—como las cebollas—que prosperan en climas secos. Y gracias a un sistema de riego patrocinado por CRS, ella sabe que tendrá acceso al agua todo el año. Sus cosechas crecerán y ella podrá vender algunas en el mercado. "Yo pago las cuotas escolares gracias a la venta de las verduras. Las verduras ayudan a resolver los problemas que enfrenta mi familia", dice Safiata.

Además, ella puede prepararse para el futuro. Junto con otros, Safiata está poniendo un poco de los ingresos que gana de vender sus cosechas en el mercado en un fondo de ahorro comunitario. "Si tú enfrentas dificultades, la comunidad te ayudará", dice. Los que aportan pueden pedir prestado dinero del fondo para emergencias, cuotas escolares para sus hijos, o para crear negocios.

BEAN CAKES

Makes 6 - 8 Bean Cakes

- 1 can black-eyed peas, drained
- 1 small onion, chopped
- 2 carrots, peeled and chopped
- 1 egg, whisked
- ½ t salt
- ½ t black pepper
- 1 c flour
- ¼ c vegetable oil

Place black-eyed peas in a blender with the onion, carrots and egg. Blend to a smooth paste, and add salt and pepper. If bean mixture has too much liquid to form cakes, add flour, ¼ cup at a time to thicken until you can form into cakes. Divide into 6 to 8 portions and place in hot vegetable oil. Flatten each one into a disc using a spatula. Fry until browned (about 5 to 7 minutes), turning occasionally. Serve with rice.

TORTAS DE FRIJOL

Rinde 6 - 8 tortas de frijoles

- 1 lata de guisantes de ojos negros, escurridos
- 1 cebolla pequeña, picada
- 2 zanahorias, peladas y picadas
- 1 huevo, batido
- ½ cucharadita de sal
- ½ cucharadita de pimienta negra
- 1 taza de harina
- ¼ taza de aceite vegetal

Coloca los guisantes de ojos negros en una licuadora con la cebolla, las zanahorias y el huevo. Mezcla hasta formar una pasta suave y agrega la sal y pimienta. Si la mezcla de frijoles tiene demasiado líquido para formar tortas, agrega la harina, ¼ de taza a la vez para espesar hasta que pueda formar en tortas. Divide la mezcla en 6 a 8 porciones y colócala en aceite vegetal caliente y aplánala en la forma de un disco con una espátula. Friela hasta dorar (unos 5 a 7 minutos), girala ocasionalmente. Sirvelas con arroz.

St. Lucy School News

Noticias de la Escuela de Santa Lucia

From the Principal's Office

Dear Parishioners,

How do St. Lucy School students prepare for the most important celebration of the liturgical year- Easter? On Ash Wednesday, they began Lent by writing prayers which they placed in our prayer box. Every day during Lent, students will have the opportunity to have the entire community pray for their intentions.

This Lent, the school and the parish are participating in the Catholic Relief Services' Rice Bowl —Lenten faith-in-action program. We devote our Lenten prayers, fasting and gifts to change the lives of the poor.

- Through prayer, we encounter Christ, present in the faces of every member of our human family, so often still walking that long road to Calvary.

- Through fasting, we encounter our own obstacles, those things about ourselves that prevent us from loving God and neighbor.

- Through almsgiving, we encounter our brothers and sisters around the world, asking what we can give up so that others might have life to the fullest.

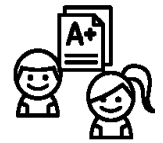

As we walk through the 40 days of Lent, we reflect on personal change. Each week, students will reflect on scripture stories while learning about the last 40 days of Jesus' life. On March 9th, SLS 8th graders will lead the parish in praying the Stations of the Cross. On Holy Thursday, students will be led by our 8th graders through an Easter in 90 minutes activity. They will reenact the Holy Thursday, Good Friday and Easter Sunday events in preparation for Easter. Through all of these activities and reflections, students will prepare themselves for the risen Christ at Easter.

May this Lenten season bring you closer to God,
Sue Grover, Principal
