Pentecost Sunday

You might have heard the phrase paschal mystery at one time or another. Saying or hearing it often makes one imagine that most Catholics know what it means, but if someone were to ask you about its meaning, how might you respond? It's certainly more than a nice expression of Christianity. Technically it means Passover and corresponds to the story found in the book of Exodus when the Israelites were freed from slavery by God's power.

As many know, Christian practices correspond to practices of Judaism. The Passover was the event of God acting on behalf of the chosen people enslaved in Egypt. By God's power they were saved and set free to live the covenant that God forged with God's chosen people. Moses instructed the people to apply lamb's blood to their doorways in order to avoid the death of every first-born in the Hebrew tribe.

In many respects, one could imagine God as a warrior King who does what others could not for their tribe or a tribal Lord whose interests are self-centered with little regard for those not part of the tribe. Clearly, some imagine that this is the way that God is, but that really misses the point of paschal mystery. (Continued on page 5...)

Domingo de Pentecostés

Es posible que haya escuchado la frase misterio pascual. Decirlo o escucharlo a menudo hace que uno se imagine que la mayoría de los católicos saben lo que significa, pero si alguien le preguntara sobre su significado, ¿cómo respondería? Ciertamente es más que una buena expresión del cristianismo. Técnicamente significa Pascua Judía y corresponde a la historia que se encuentra en el libro de Éxodo cuando los israelitas fueron liberados de la esclavitud por el poder de Dios.

Como muchos saben, las prácticas cristianas corresponden a prácticas del judaísmo. La Pascua Judía fue el evento en que Dios actuó a favor del pueblo escogido esclavizado en Egipto. Por el poder de Dios fueron salvados y puestos en libertad para vivir el pacto que Dios forjó con el pueblo. Moisés le dijo al pueblo que apliquen sangre de cordero en sus puertas para evitar la muerte de todos los primogénitos de la tribu hebrea.

En muchos aspectos, uno podría imaginarse a Dios como un rey guerrero que hace lo que otros no pueden hacer por su tribu o uno cuyo interés es egocéntrico con poca consideración por aquellos que no son parte de la tribu. Claramente, algunos imaginan que Dios es así, pero eso realmente pierde el sentido del misterio pascual. (Continúa en la página 5...)

Synod Notes Notas del Sínodo

It does little good to apply an anthropomorphic view of God when trying to define the paschal mystery. Doing so only leads us to the dead end of tribal rivalries of which there are far too many to reckon in today's climate of division and hostility. We cannot adequately define God and any attempt to do so will likely end with a projection of what fails to capture the essential nature of the divine life.

Regrettably, this point of view only exacerbates the divisions we create. The meaning of the paschal mystery is meant to guide us in our personal responsibility and accept that even though we are imperfect beings each of us can improve what is lacking by learning to cooperate with each other by remaining faithful to God and by loving one another as Jesus loved us. If everyone did this, we would enjoy the fulfillment of God's promised kingdom now.

Christianity includes the concept that all could be one; that whatever tribe you belong to could share in a single identity with others; that personal and communal responsibility would allow to understand a deeper sense of God's presence in all of us; and that all of us can help one another grow into the mature human and humane people God intended in the first place.

We continue to learn about the paschal mystery each every day. May our celebration of Pentecost call us to be one in God's Holy Spirit.

(Notas del Párroco, de la pagina 1)

De poco sirve aplicar una visión antropomórfica de Dios cuando se trata de definir el misterio pascual. Hacerlo solo nos lleva al callejón sin salida de las rivalidades tribales, de las cuales hay demasiadas en el clima actual de división y hostilidad. No podemos definir adecuadamente a Dios y cualquier intento de hacerlo probablemente terminará con una proyección de lo que no logra captar la naturaleza esencial de la vida divina.

Lamentablemente, este punto de vista solo exagera las divisiones que creamos. El significado del misterio pascual está destinado a guiarnos en nuestra responsabilidad personal y aceptar que, aunque somos seres imperfectos, cada uno de nosotros puede mejorar lo que le falta, aprendiendo a cooperar unos con otros permaneciendo fieles a Dios y amándose unos a otros como Jesús nos amó. Si todos hicieran esto, disfrutaríamos ahora del cumplimiento del reino prometido de Dios.

El cristianismo incluye el concepto de que todos pueden ser uno; que cualquier tribu a la que pertenezcas podría compartir una sola identidad con otras; que la responsabilidad personal y comunitaria permitiría comprender un sentido más profundo de la presencia de Dios en todos nosotros; y que todos nosotros podamos ayudarnos unos a otros a crecer hasta convertirnos en el pueblo humano y maduro que Dios quiso en primer lugar.

Seguimos aprendiendo sobre el misterio pascual cada día. Que nuestra celebración de Pentecostés nos llame a ser uno en el Espíritu Santo de Dios.

Message from the Principal

Dear Parishioners,

The last 10 years have been a blast! Many of our graduates started their journey at St. Lucy School in our Little Lightning Pre-K program! They are our first graduating class of Lightning Lifers!

The Class of 2022 has spent 1,165 days with their classmates and our St. Lucy School Faculty and Staff since Kindergarten. They have all brought something special to our community and will leave their legacy at St. Lucy School. We have enjoyed celebrating their accomplishments this past week at the class picnic, family luncheon, 8th grade dance, Bachelorette Mass and Graduation.

The Faculty and Staff are excited to see our 8th grade students continue on their life journey, but are sad to see them go, as we have watched most of them grow up since Pre-K. We are honored to be a part of the many milestones each of these students have reached throughout their years at St. Lucy School. Please join me in praying for the St. Lucy School Class of 2022 as they continue to shine their light in the world.

God bless,

Sue Grover
Principal
