The mission of Saint Lucy Parish is to lead people to a transformative relationship with Jesus Christ and the Catholic Church. We live our faith by welcoming and serving.

La misión de la Parroquia de Santa Lucía es guiar a la comunidad a una relación transformadora con Jesucristo y la Iglesia Católica. Vivimos nuestra fe en el servicio y al dar la bienvenida.

Jesus Loves Us

Each of us baptized into the death and resurrection of Jesus received the promise of new and everlasting life.

After receiving the sacraments of initiation, we might imagine that we've reached the pinnacle of what it means to belong to the Roman Catholic Church. Still, we know there's so much more to what we are becoming each day when we acknowledge how the Holy Spirit is at work in us.

Each of us seeks to answer the call to become a disciple of Christ, and whether you are aware of it or not, following Jesus is at one time very attractive and wise and somewhat dangerous and subversive. Attractive and wise because of who Jesus is, the words he speaks, and his faithfulness to God. However, following Jesus is dangerously counter-cultural because he often warns about the hazards of gaining the world and losing yourself in the process.

Back in my childhood, on Saturday mornings there was a rather entertaining cartoon called Super Chicken—a parody on superheroes. (Continued on page 5...)

Jesús Nos Ama

Cada uno de nosotros bautizados en la muerte y resurrección de Jesús recibimos la promesa de vida nueva y eterna. Después de recibir los sacramentos de la iniciación, podemos imaginar que hemos alcanzado el pináculo de lo que significa pertenecer a la Iglesia Católica Romana. Aún así, sabemos que hay mucho más en lo que nos estamos volviendo cada día cuando reconocemos cómo el Espíritu Santo está obrando en nosotros.

Cada uno de nosotros busca responder al llamado de convertirse en un discípulo de Cristo, y ya sea que lo sepa o no, seguir a Jesús es a la vez muy atractivo y sabio pero también algo peligroso y subversivo. Atractivo y sabio por quién es Jesús, las palabras que habla y su fidelidad a Dios. Sin embargo, seguir a Jesús es peligrosamente contracultural porque a menudo el advierte sobre los peligros de ganar el mundo y perderse uno mismo en el proceso.

En mi infancia, los sábados por la mañana había una caricatura bastante entretenida llamada Super Chicken, una parodia de los superhéroes. (Continúa en la página 5...)

The theme song at the beginning briefly described Super Chicken and his sidekick, Fred the lion. Fred was not fond of the dangers he endured—as demonstrated in the classic line—"Fred if you're afraid you'll have to overlook it, you knew the job was dangerous when you took it." Maybe we're not so focused on the dangers of following Jesus when all is well, though we know many face the dilemmas following Jesus presents when confronted with the hateful ways of others.

Things are changing in the world in a most profound way all the time, but probably no more so than now. Some may think about how climate change is real and how it effects all living things. Some may think of how families face hard economic choices. Some may feel most helpless about human trafficking, violence and war raging at this hour. It's not unusual to feel helpless and vulnerable given so much chaos.

As those who seek to follow Jesus, we need to acknowledge our sense of helplessness and vulnerability, and at the same time acknowledge God's transformative power of love. Our willingness to remain faithful to our baptismal call of loving God above all things and our neighbor as ourselves is the choice that will lead us to the path of life. We need to assure each other that God's love will prevail. If we can open ourselves to that alone, we can begin again to walk together humbly with God. We acknowledge that suffering is part of life, and we strive to alleviate undue suffering. We cannot become what we are as baptized Christians and simply fail to love as Jesus loves us.

La canción al principio describía brevemente a Super Chicken y su compañero, Fred el león. A Fred no le gustaban los peligros, como se demuestra en la línea clásica: "Fred, si tienes miedo tendrás que ignorarlo, sabías que el trabajo era peligroso cuando lo tomaste". Tal vez no estemos tan enfocados en los peligros de seguir a Jesús cuando todo está bien, aunque sabemos que muchos enfrentan los dilemas que presenta seguir a Jesús cuando se enfrentan a las formas de odio de los demás.

Las cosas están cambiando en el mundo de la manera más profunda todo el tiempo, pero probablemente no más que ahora. Algunos pueden pensar en cómo el cambio climático es real y cómo afecta a todos los seres vivos. Algunos pueden pensar en cómo las familias enfrentan decisiones económicas difíciles. Algunos pueden sentirse más impotentes con la violencia humana y la guerra que se desata en este momento. No es inusual sentirse impotente y vulnerable ante tanto caos.

Como aquellos que buscan seguir a Jesús, debemos reconocer nuestro sentido de impotencia y vulnerabilidad y, al mismo tiempo, reconocer el poder transformador del amor de Dios. Nuestra disposición a permanecer fieles a nuestra llamada bautismal de amar a Dios sobre todas las cosas y al prójimo como a nosotros mismos es la elección que nos conducirá al camino de la vida. Necesitamos asegurarnos unos a otros que el amor de Dios prevalecerá. Si podemos abrirnos solo a eso, podemos comenzar de nuevo a caminar juntos humildemente con Dios. Reconocemos que el sufrimiento es parte de la vida y nos esforzamos por aliviar el sufrimiento indebido. No podemos convertirnos en lo que somos como cristianos bautizados y simplemente dejar de amar como Jesús nos ama.
