In our announcements last weekend, the second collection this Sunday is for the Mission Cooperative. Fr. Dave Mercer sent this for publication. He was assigned here some years ago.

Ordained in 1987, I have served in many parishes of DSJ, including campus ministry at San Jose State University. I had long thought about being available for a mission assignment, but never pursued it. In January 2020, I realized I would soon be 66 years old and that it would quickly be too late if I did not speak up, so I did. Bishop Cantú gave me a greenlight, and the Diocese of Las Cruces, New Mexico, asked me to serve at St. Joseph Apache Mission, in Mescalero. I then had less than two months to vacate St. Thomas of Canterbury and head to the Mescalero Apache Reservation.

Two years later, I remain grateful to be serving here and learning the Apache culture and history. Their story is one of heartache and the loss of their homelands 130 years ago and their continued struggle to heal from that loss. The most important pastoral skill for this mission is to be a listener, and I do my best. (Continued on page 5...)

En nuestros anuncios del fin de semana pasado, la segunda colecta de este domingo es para la Mission Coop. Padre Dave Mercer envió esto para su publicación. Fue asignado aquí hace algunos años.

Ordenado en 1987, he servido en muchas parroquias de la Diócesis de San José, incluido el ministerio del campus en la Universidad Estatal de San José. Durante mucho tiempo había pensado en estar disponible para una asignación misionera, pero nunca la perseguí. En enero de 2020, me di cuenta de que pronto cumpliría 66 años y que rápidamente sería demasiado tarde si no decía algo, y lo hice. El obispo Cantú me dio la luz verde y la Diócesis de Las Cruces, Nuevo México, me pidió servir en la Misión St. Joseph Apache, en Mescalero. Entonces tenía menos de dos meses para abandonar St. Thomas of Canterbury y dirigirme a la Reserva Mescalero Apache.

Dos años después, sigo agradecido de estar sirviendo aquí y aprendiendo la cultura y la historia Apache. Su historia es una de angustia y la pérdida de su tierra natal hace 130 años y su continua lucha por recuperarse de esa pérdida. La habilidad pastoral más importante para esta misión es escuchar, y lo hago lo mejor que puedo. (Continúa en la página 5...)

They have such a rich heritage, a deep spiritual tradition, and a heart for God. And yet, their main desire is to be respected. I do my best.

Unfortunately, the money is not here for the ministries that are needed. I'm not even in the budget. Bishop Cantú retired me early, bumped me to full pension, which, together with Social Security checks, is the only way the Apache Mission can afford me. The only real cost I bring to the mission is for the propane to heat the priest house during the cold winter months. Otherwise, we make do with grant writing and donations from off the reservation.

The few others on staff are overworked, but they too have hearts for God. Franciscan Sister Robert Ann Hecker (of Ohio) has served here for 30 years, running catechetics and our food bank. Harry Vasile is a LA boy who married a tribe member and visits the county jail, the rehab center, and works with youth. Mary Mendez is from a tribe at Fort Belknap Reservation, Montana, and runs the office (and me). They have been my mentors, and I would be lost without them.

Our biggest pastoral need is to offer the message of hope that is at the heart of the Gospel. Poverty here is real, as are the social ills that follow poverty. I look forward to sharing a real life parable that captures that message of hope and inviting people to be part of the good ministry here at the Apache Mission.

Tienen una rica herencia, una profunda tradición espiritual y un corazón para Dios. Y, sin embargo, su principal deseo es ser respetados. Hago lo mejor.

Desafortunadamente, el dinero no está aquí para los ministerios que se necesitan. Ni siquiera formo parte de su presupuesto. El obispo Cantú me jubiló antes de tiempo, me subió a la pensión completa, que, junto con los cheques del Seguro Social, es la única forma en que la Misión Apache puede pagarme. El único costo real que aporto a la misión es el propano para calentar la casa de sacerdotes durante los fríos meses de invierno. De lo contrario, nos conformamos con escribir subvenciones y recibir donaciones de fuera.

Los pocos miembros del personal están sobrecargados de trabajo, pero también tienen corazones para Dios. La hermana franciscana Robert Ann Hecker (de Ohio) ha servido aquí durante 30 años, dirigiendo la catequesis y nuestra despensa de alimentos. Harry Vasile es un chico de Los Ángeles que se casó con un miembro de la tribu y visita la cárcel del condado, el centro de rehabilitación y trabaja con jóvenes. Mary Méndez es de una tribu en la reserva de Fort Belknap, Montana, y dirige la oficina (y yo). Han sido mis mentores y estaría perdido sin ellos.

Nuestra mayor necesidad pastoral es ofrecer el mensaje de esperanza que está en el corazón del Evangelio. La pobreza aquí es real, como lo son los males sociales que siguen a la pobreza. Espero poder compartir una parábola de la vida real que capture ese mensaje de esperanza e invitar a las personas a ser parte del buen ministerio aquí en la Misión Apache.
