The mission of Saint Lucy Parish is to lead people to a transformative relationship with Jesus Christ and the Catholic Church. We live our faith by welcoming and serving.

La misión de la Parroquia de Santa Lucía es guiar a la comunidad a una relación transformadora con Jesucristo y la Iglesia Católica. Vivimos nuestra fe en el servicio y al dar la bienvenida.

Pray, Work, and Rest

Couples that plan to marry in the Roman Catholic Church are required to complete a 156-statement questionnaire. The authors of the FOCCUS Test designed it to be a personality profile that allows couples to understand their relationship with some objectivity. In relationships, one is basically subjected to the other, and sometimes it is difficult to see how an objective view can help them in developing a mature marital relationship. For each of the 156 statements on the test, the participant responds with agree, disagree or uncertain. There are no incorrect answers save those that do not represent the truth of the participating couple.

One of the statements reads something like, "Work is more important than my religious practice." Agree would seem to be the more likely and honest response to this statement, and many couples—one or the other or both—respond in a like manner. The test is written to evoke a response. Whether or not they agree with each other, they may not agree with the prevailing understanding of what many regard as the proper approach to marriage. (Continued on page 5...)

Orar, Trabajar y Descansar

Las parejas que planean casarse en la Iglesia Católica deben completar un cuestionario de 156 declaraciones. Los autores del FOCCUS lo diseñaron como un perfil de personalidad que permite a las parejas comprender su relación con cierta objetividad. En las relaciones, uno está básicamente sujeto al otro y, a veces, es difícil ver cómo una visión objetiva puede ayudarlos a desarrollar una relación matrimonial madura. Para cada una de las 156 afirmaciones de la prueba, el participante responde con acuerdo, en desacuerdo o inseguro. No hay respuestas incorrectas salvo aquellas que no representan la verdad de la pareja participante.

Una de las declaraciones dice algo así: "El trabajo es más importante que mi práctica religiosa". Estar de acuerdo parecería ser la respuesta más probable y honesta a esta afirmación, y muchas parejas - uno, el otro o ambos - responden de la misma manera. La prueba está escrita para evocar una respuesta. Ya sea que estén de acuerdo o no, es posible que no estén de acuerdo con el entendimiento predominante de lo que muchos consideran el enfoque adecuado para el matrimonio. Come join us for Taizé Prayer Around the Cross

7:00-7:45pm on Thursday, October 28

The Taizé (pronounced "teh-ZAY") prayer service is from an interfaith community founded in Taizé, France in 1940. We'll sing simple chants throughout the service (such as Jesus, Remember Me) and have a short reading from scripture followed by moments of silent reflection. There's a period for your intercessory prayers after which we'll pray the Our Father. Near the end of service you'll be invited to pray at the cross in whatever form you're comfortable with kneeling, touching, or standing by the cross. Take all the time you need at the cross as you place your joys and concerns to Christ. Watch a short example of a Taizé service: <https://catholiccourier.com/articles/taize-prayer/>

It is easy to imagine that work takes precedence over religious practice. After all, religious practice does not put food on the table. Still, work is not the source of our lives. While it may identify what one does, it can hardly define who one is. Though for some work is a handy definition for who one is, such an identity is fundamentally flawed because it defines too narrowly anyone who chooses an occupation as an identity. Religious practice is meant to be an expression of the very core of one's identity in this life and the next. God is the source of all life, and our lives are a mystery to be lived, not solved.

Essential to practically everything in life, striking a balance between our prayer, work, and rest will keep us more mindful of God's faithfulness to us. Restlessness is a spiritual affliction. Though it's as true as Augustine wrote, "Our hearts are restless, until they rest in God," it is unlikely that anyone will ever find peace in life without understanding our ability to trust in the promise of resting in God. Practicing virtue might become easier as we grow in wisdom and age, though the attraction to any number of opportunities in this life can stymie even the wisest elder.

Making God first in our lives allows us to recognize our place before God and one another. The mystery of our own lives is inextricably tied to the mystery of God. Finding the balance between prayer, work, and rest is the challenge that motivates to discover one's true self.

Es fácil imaginar que el trabajo prevalece sobre la práctica religiosa. Después de todo, la práctica religiosa no pone comida en la mesa. Aún así, el trabajo no es la fuente de nuestras vidas. Aunque el trabajo puede identificar lo que uno hace, difícilmente puede definir quién es uno. Para algunos el trabajo es una definición útil de quién es uno, pero tal identidad es fundamentalmente defectuosa porque define de manera demasiado estrecha a cualquiera que elija una ocupación como identidad. La práctica religiosa está destinada a ser una expresión del núcleo mismo de la identidad de uno en esta vida y en la próxima. Dios es la fuente de toda vida, y nuestras vidas son un misterio para vivir, no para resolver.

Esencial para prácticamente todo en la vida, lograr un equilibrio entre nuestra oración, trabajo y descanso nos mantendrá más conscientes de la fidelidad de Dios hacia nosotros. La inquietud es una aflicción espiritual. Aunque es tan cierto como escribió San Agustín: "Nuestros corazones están inquietos hasta que descansen en Dios", es poco probable que alguien encuentre la paz en la vida sin comprender nuestra capacidad para confiar en la promesa de descansar en Dios. Practicar la virtud puede volverse más fácil a medida que crecemos en sabiduría y edad, aunque la atracción por cualquier cantidad de oportunidades en esta vida puede obstaculizar incluso al anciano más sabio.

Hacer que Dios sea el primero en nuestras vidas nos permite reconocer nuestro lugar ante Dios y entre nosotros. El misterio de nuestra propia vida está indisolublemente ligado al misterio de Dios. Encontrar el equilibrio entre la oración, el trabajo y el descanso es el desafío que motiva a descubrir el verdadero yo.
