The Harvest Is Plenty

"Other seeds fell into the good soil, and as they grew up and increased, they yielded a crop and produced thirty, sixty, and a hundredfold." And He was saying, "He who has ears to hear, let him hear."

This passage from Mark, chapter 4, offers an image of abundant growth. Yet, earlier in the parable, the sower appears somewhat indiscriminate, scattering seed in all directions—many of which fall in places where they cannot thrive. As with many of Jesus' parables, the story is simple but layered with meaning. Agrarian imagery would have resonated deeply with His first-century audience, who found in these stories not only a reflection of their everyday lives but a deeper spiritual message to ponder and apply.

Today, fewer of us live close to the land. For many, our "harvest" happens in the aisles of a grocery store, not in a field or vineyard. Still, the metaphor holds: the soil around us—our community—is rich with possibility.

La Cosecha es Abundante

"Otras semillas cayeron en buena tierra, y al crecer y multiplicarse, dieron fruto y produjeron al treinta, al sesenta y al ciento por uno." Y Él dice: "El que tenga oídos para oír, que oiga."

Este pasaje de Marcos, capítulo 4, ofrece una imagen de crecimiento abundante. Sin embargo, anteriormente en la parábola, el sembrador parece un tanto indiscriminado, esparciendo semillas por todas partes, muchas de las cuales caen en lugares donde no prosperan. Como en muchas de las parábolas de Jesús, la historia es sencilla pero llena de significado. Las imágenes agrarias hubieran resonado profundamente en su audiencia del primer siglo, quienes encontraron en estas historias no solo un reflejo de su vida cotidiana, sino también un mensaje espiritual más profundo para reflexionar y aplicar.

Hoy en día, menos vivimos cerca de la tierra. Para muchos, nuestra "cosecha" ocurre en los pasillos de un supermercado, no en un campo o una viña. Aun así, la metáfora es válida: la tierra que nos rodea —nuestra comunidad— es rica en posibilidades. (Continúa leyendo en la página 4...)

The conditions for growth are here. But as Jesus reminds us, "The harvest is plentiful, but the laborers are few; therefore, beseech the Lord of the harvest to send out laborers into His harvest."

If that sounds like an invitation to a life of service, that's because it is. This call extends not only to those considering a religious vocation but also to anyone willing to share their gifts in the life of the Church.

Many who faithfully attend Mass may hesitate to take a more active role in parish life. You may have noticed announcements asking for Eucharistic Ministers, Ushers, Lectors, volunteers for catechetical formation or appeals for help with the youth group. These aren't just bulletin fillers—they're opportunities for you to make a difference. We know that within our assembly there is untapped talent. What's often missing is a sense of personal calling, a vision for how to contribute.

It might seem unusual to reflect on how we can use our talents and gifts during a time when parish life naturally slows down. But in truth, there's no better moment than now to consider how we can help sustain the vibrancy of our Catholic heritage here in Campbell.

Many volunteers have already given countless hours serving in the various liturgical ministries of the Mass. Even so, each of us is called to ask: How can I put my faith into action?

By stepping forward to serve, we not only support the mission of our parish but also contribute to the larger vision of the Roman Catholic Church in Santa Clara County. Our willingness to serve is a powerful expression of our faith. May each find a vocation and answer the call.

(Continuación de la pagina 1)

Las condiciones para el crecimiento están aquí. Pero como nos recuerda Jesús: "La cosecha es grande, pero los obreros pocos; por tanto, rogad al Señor que envíe obreros a su cosecha".

Si esto suena como una invitación a una vida de servicio, es porque lo es. Este llamado se extiende no solo a quienes consideran una vocación religiosa, sino también a cualquiera que esté dispuesto a compartir sus dones en la vida de la Iglesia.

Muchos de los que asisten fielmente a misa dudan en como participar más activamente en la vida parroquial. Quizás haya visto anuncios solicitando ministros de la Eucaristía, hospitalidad, lectores, voluntarios para la formación catequética o peticiones de ayuda para el grupo juvenil. Estos no son solo anuncios para rellenar el boletín; son oportunidades para que marque la diferencia. Sabemos que en nuestra asamblea hay talento sin explotar. Lo que a menudo falta es un sentido de vocación personal, una visión de cómo contribuir.

Puede parecer inusual reflexionar sobre cómo podemos usar nuestros talentos y dones en un momento en que la vida parroquial, naturalmente, se ralentiza. Pero, en realidad, no hay mejor momento que ahora para considerar cómo podemos ayudar a mantener la vitalidad de nuestra herencia católica aquí en Campbell.

Muchos voluntarios ya han dedicado incontables horas al servir en los diversos ministerios litúrgicos de la misa. Aun así, cada uno de nosotros está llamado a preguntarse: ¿Cómo puedo poner mi fe en práctica?

Al ofrecernos a servir, no solo apoyamos la misión de nuestra parroquia, sino que también contribuimos a la visión más amplia de la Iglesia Católica Romana en el condado de Santa Clara. Nuestra disposición a servir es una poderosa expresión de nuestra fe. Que cada uno encuentre su vocación y responda al llamado.
